Following the captioned line I _____ have completed my HSC from Punjab School Education Board in 2018. Since early days I always wanted to pursue my higher studies in international university so having the opportunity to fulfil my dreams see my future secure and bright I have decided to complete my further studies from international university.

UK universities all offer programs that I can utilize when applying for jobs at home after my studies. Not only is the academic standard at their partner universities valued and of high prestige, my experiences abroad will demonstrate that I am independent, open-minded, flexible and up for a challenge! Among the benefits of studying in UK is a wide choice in picking my field of study and institution. The UK education system promotes close interaction between students and lecturers and provides the freedom to combine different subjects into a single course of study. Indian students who're worried about expensive tuition fee need not lose sleep either, for there are many scholarships that I can apply to, especially at postgraduate and research level, to support my study and cost of living costs. Studying in UK is an opportunity to experience a multicultural environment, meet new people and fellow international students from across the world and discover new places. I benefit by developing a range of skills that are necessary to be part of today's global workforce.

The university which would help me to provide detailed knowledge is Oxford Brookes University. The university is recognised for providing one to one attention to the students and developing their personality as per the current scenario of the market. Moreover, they also boost their graduates to develop innovative ideas and with the help of lectures from the professionals help the academician to learn about the most-up-to-date methods to overcome the hurdles faced by the huge industries. I researched all the things from the website of the university as well as I have the brochure of the university, which I downloaded from university's website.

Oxford Brookes University Business Management BA (Hons) is based on the arts tradition, which helps broaden perspective and develops practical skills which are highly appealing to future employers in a global economy. I'll also have the benefit of studying one programme and gaining two degrees, one from the US and one from the UK. Complementary membership of the Chartered Management Institute is also offered to me. In the third and fourth year, I'll be able to take my pick from topics which particularly appeal to me, such as Modern China, The Global Investor, Operations Management and International Finance. Renowned and highly qualified business leaders are invited to speak to their Business Management BA (Hons) me, sharing their experience within the industry, while visits to organisations and museums enhance experiential learning. I'll also be able to tailor my Business Management BA (Hons) degree by taking a minor from a wide range of other leading academic disciplines.

Thus, to conclude I would like to say that if Oxford Brookes University gives me an opportunity to study in the university I would grab the opportunity and take the advantage of the staff to make my life to the next level and make my path a crystal clear and reach the height of success with minimum hurdles and maximum experience gained during my study.
