

"I knew that if I failed I wouldn't regret that, but I knew the one thing I might regret is not trying."

Jeff Bezos, Amazon Founder and CEO

Name: STUDENT'S NAME

I have always obtained fair grades. I passed class 10 examinations with 75.5% in 2013. Subsequently, I chose to study Science Stream which had always been my area of interest as I was born and brought up in Ahmadabad, Gujarat, a state known for its enterprising spirit and entrepreneurial skills. As I completed my 12th with 50.14 %. I completed my Bachelor in Science from Gujarat University with second class in 2019.

I have so far studied various subjects like Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, etc., but I foresee my future in the world of finance and management on account of their increasing ubiquity and deeper penetration into our lives. . To my mind, this course is in line with my understanding and viewpoint, therefore I have made up my mind to enrol on this.

I was doing internet search on Google. I typed colleges and universities in the UK. I found Solent University. I saw everything on its website and found it very attractive. I also saw that it offers courses not just in one field but multifarious fields. I paid more attention to 'Life on Campus' section and saw that there is a restaurant, convenience store, library, sports facilities, etc. That's why I am too excited about joining this university because so far, I have never had all these facilities on campus. I wish to study with different students and learn different things.

What's more, I realized that Solent University offers an impressive combination of bright employment prospects, decent initial pay, lucid pedagogy and student engagement. There is also a diverse student population, which will educate in multi-cultural aspects of this globalised world.

MSc Project Management is split into eight distinct modules, divided into three levels of postgraduate qualification. This Course also encourages the development of leadership abilities, financial acumen and people management techniques. I can be examine the structures and processes necessary for an organisation to deliver a project effectively, explore the theories that have crated advance in the fields of organisational behaviour, human resource management and leadership, and learn the Agile project Management methodology, specifically the proven DSDM Astern framework.

The course includes Research Methods and Dissertation. In research methods I will identify my own research topic with comprehensive knowledge and understanding of the different management research philosophies and approaches. It also explores the application of various management research methods and considers the organisation and management of research and ethical issues. In Dissertation, I will have the opportunity to undertake in-depth study of an issue or problem of particular subject which I have interest or related to the overall aims and objectives of projects.

The Msc Project Management course is delivered by the team of academics with setting links to the project management profession and the project management profession and the wider industry. The course content aligns with requirements for the Association for Project Management's (APM) Body of Knowledge and the University has strong links to APMG-International, ensuring the course team and students are kept fully up to date with current trends in project management.

This course will make me develop advanced and flexible management skills, access to an extensive business network is for a career change and thriving business opportunities. As this course emphasizes on imparting hands-on experience to students, it will certainly boost me achieve my goal of gaining expertise and deeper understanding of a successful business. This, in turn, will brighten my career prospects and help me to become a successful businessman hopefully.